

2025-2026 Freeride Competition Snowboard Team

Freeride Competition Snowboard Team riders train with professional coaches to improve their freestyle riding while learning the fundamentals of snowboarding competition. MBSEF provides a USASA and USSS certified coaching staff with the highest level of freestyle accreditation from the American Association of Snowboard Instructors (AASI).

On-snow training focuses on all aspects of snowboarding including slopestyle, halfpipe, boardercross, and all-mountain freeriding skills. Riders are taught contest run design, competition strategies, and sportsmanship. Riders are encouraged to compete in our local USASA Central Oregon Series competitions, coaching will be provided. Riders are grouped with others of similar ability and age.

Two, three and four day options are available: Saturday, Sunday, and Wednesday or Thursday afternoons. Weekend training times are 10:00 - 3:00. Midweek training times are 12:30 - 4:00. Midweek riders need to arrange early release with their school. Winter Camp and Spring Camps are included. A competition and training schedule will be provided on-line at mbsef.org.

The Freeride Competition Snowboard Team is a goal-oriented program for motivated riders who want to train for local, regional events and qualify for USASA Nationals. In addition to competing in local events, the Freeride Competition Team also attends USASA regional events in the Mt. Hood Series (Coaching fees included in program fees). Athletes who qualify and wish to attend other events including Futures Tours, Revolution Tours and/or USASA Nationals at Copper Mountain, Colorado will be required to pay additional event coaching fees and coach travel expenses. Membership fees, Competition fees and all travel fees are not included in MBSEF program fee.

The Freeride Competition Snowboard Team rider progression is enhanced by team athletes sharing similar goals, individual goal assessment, and a top-level coaching staff. Freeride Competition Snowboard Team riders are encouraged to train during Winter and Spring Break Camps.
